Congratulations to the Class of 2015

Welcome to the HACC Alumni Association!

More than 500 students walked across the stage to receive their associate degrees, certificates or diplomas during HACC's Commencement held May 16, 2015, at the Giant Center in Hershey. They were among the more than 1,200 students who completed their associate degrees, certificates or diplomas during the spring 2015 term.

Among the graduates were:

- Lisa Newcomer of Mechanicsburg, who overcame many obstacles including family deaths, homelessness and abuse to achieve her dream of earning an associate degree in social services. Newcomer gave a daughter up for adoption seven years ago and met her for the first time at Commencement.
- Santos Robles of Lebanon, who received his associate's degree in psychology. Robles made HACC Commencement ceremony history when he proposed to his girlfriend in front of hundreds of people during the ceremony.

HACC is going smoke free Aug. 10, 2015

The HACC Board of Trustees has approved a new initiative – "Healthy Minds. Healthy Hearts. Healthfully Yours." – which will move HACC to become a tobacco-free workplace at the start of the fall 2015 term.

"The HACC Board of Trustees is proud that HACC, Central Pennsylvania's Community College, is going to join other employers in the region in providing a healthier, safe and productive work and learning environment for the entire College community and visitors to our campuses," said Timothy L. Sandoe, chairman of the HACC Board of Trustees. "Not only are we providing a healthy campus culture and sustainable environment, a tobacco-free campus better prepares our students to enter the workforce where many employers do not permit tobacco use."

Lancaster Campus offers radiology informatics

HACC is expanding its programs at the Lancaster Campus. Starting in fall 2015, students can earn an associate degree in radiology informatics.

Medical imaging technology has shifted, causing rapid changes in recent years and proving the need for experts in this field. HACC's Lancaster Campus recognized the need to provide a program to meet the growing demand for knowledgeable professionals in PACS administration, sales and applications.

The two-year program will prepare students to become a specialist in Picture Archiving and Communication Systems (PACS) – a system that involves managing digital images to improve patient care. Students will be required to take a variety of courses, such as human biology, communication, radiology and computer basics. In addition, students will receive clinical, networking and project management opportunities and necessary skills to work with doctors, radiologic technologists, nurses and information technology (IT) professionals.

Fall registration at HACC is open, and students are encouraged to apply for the new program by visiting hacc.edu/RegisterNow.
